Join the Gala Organizing Team!

The Albuquerque Center for Peace and Justice's annual gala to celebrate accomplishments from the year, build community, and raise the funds that will sustain our work together for the next year, is around the corner. We are building a team to organize the event. Would you be willing to help out? We are looking for folks who care about peace and justice, who are willing to spend 1-2 hours each week for the next couple of months, and who are either connected to artists around town, interested in talking to community members, or love making sure every detail is taken care of. If any of that sounds like you, please email jiva@abqpeaceandjustice.org or stop by the Center for Peace and Justice to let us know you're interested.

The P&J Community is an Agent for Healing & Change

On Sunday, August 4, community members came together at the Center for Peace and Justice to mourn the horror of mass shootings in El Paso and Dayton. We are grateful to have a space like this, especially in the hardest times. We’re also humbled to have been recognized by the City for bringing people together in struggles against racism and misogyny. That recognition is for everyone in this community doing that work, so we share a lightly edited excerpt from our thank you note to City Councillor Cynthia Borrego:

“We recognize that the massacres in El Paso and Dayton have deep roots in the legacy of colonialism, genocide, slavery, and patriarchy in this country. The men who chose to buy guns, load them, and fire them into crowds of people did not take those actions because of mental illness or access to video games; they took those actions because we have long had systems that empowered them to make those choices. As we reflect on the 250+ mass shootings have happened in 2019, we also remember that people die every day from gun violence, including in our city. We remember that Indigenous people, Black people, women, and people of color are the most impacted by gun violence. We remember that police violence is gun violence.

In moments like these, we must all commit to building something different. Whether holding space for healing, strategizing to create alternatives, or advocating for reforms, we all have a role to play. To create change, it will take accountability from all of us.

We also know that we all have work to do. Each of us can stand up to racism and sexism more clearly. Each of us can be more accountable when our intentions do not match our impact and we cause harm. We are committed not just to continuing to call community together, but also to calling ourselves and each other in.”

We want to hear from you. How are you taking responsibility for the violence and injustice, and for the healing and repair in your community? Send a note to jiva@abqpeaceandjustice.org and monique@abqpeaceandjustice.org to share your reflections and stories.

2nd Annual Fiesta for Justice

With your help, NMLA will help more families achieve safer, more stable, and healthier futures. To vend at this event or to get your organization involved, contact 768-6111 or kristinas@nmlegalaid.org. For more info: kathiv@nmlegalaid.org, 814-6638 or fb.com/newmexicolegalaid

Welcome Pelatia Trujillo!

We would like to welcome Pelatia Trujillo to the Coordinating Council! Pelatia was born and raised in Albuquerque. September Membership Drive!
For over 35 years, our doors have been open to organizers and activists building a better world because of people just like you. We are able to provide space and resources only because of generosity and community, and as we look ahead to all that is in store and all that is possible, we need your help.

Will you consider making a contribution this month to help us reach our goals? We're looking for 36 people who are willing to commit to giving at least $5-$15/month. Please head over to abqpeaceandjustice.org/index.php/donate to show your support!

This month, the Center for Peace and Justice is hosting youth organizers fighting for climate justice, activists who are mobilizing to defend the rights of asylum seekers, and people creating access to healthcare. Your contributions will help keep the space accessible to those who don't have the means to donate, and will help us continue to make needed improvements to the Peace Hall.

You know how important it is to have local organizations like the Peace and Justice Center, so we are also looking to build our community this month. Do you have friends who believe in the values of this community, and who are generous with other causes, but haven't yet supported this community?

We want to recruit 75 new members by the end of the year, and need your help. Can you ask 3-5 friends this month to consider becoming a member of the Peace and Justice Center, so that we can continue to sustain the work? Please ask them to visit abqpeaceandjustice.org/index.php/donate and give at least $40 this month.

We also want to hear your ideas about how we can build a thriving Peace and Justice Center that welcomes all who are working toward a world in which needs are met sustainably and nonviolently. We are appreciative to have community like you, so that we can continue to build peace and justice together! Thank you so much for the support!
